Roadblocks to Healing: The Western Mindset

By Mark Anderson

This is a teaching on roadblocks or hindrances to God's divine healing power. The title comes from a dream I recently had. I was driving a truck to a certain destination. I suddenly came to a roadblock and it looked like I would not be able to make it to my destination. As I approached the roadblock I slowed down and saw a way around the roadblock. Then the dream ended. It was 3:30 a.m. and I thought nothing about this dream. I tried to fall back asleep but could not and ended up getting up and praying for someone I knew who that was struggling with cancer. Then the Lord showed me that this dream was meant to shed light on how to get around the roadblocks when it comes to healing. I want to encourage you there are ways around the roadblocks to healing. You are to move forward and press in for what rightfully belongs to you as a believer in Jesus. Thus this writing.

If believers will seek out the truth about healing like looking for treasure, healing and miracles will become a regular occurrence. If miracles and healings are to happen on a regular basis believers will need to

“Many Christians do not like to venture outside the religious box they have put God in or have been raised to believe God is in when it comes to divine healing and miracles.”

pursue and seek after the truths in God's Word in order to lay a foundation that cannot be shaken. They need to seek after these truths like seeking after hidden treasure. Christ's miracle working power is there. Do you want it?

Jesus said Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, For they shall be filled. This is a principle Jesus laid down. Whatever you are hungry and thirsty for you will be filled with. One roadblock that I often see when it comes to divine healing is a lack of hunger and thirsting. Many Christians do not like to venture outside the religious box they have put God in or have been raised to believe God is in when it comes to divine healing and miracles. There is no pressing in for it but an attitude of whatever will be will be. That mindset does not produce results.

In over 32 years of being in a healing ministry I have watched people, who were hungry and thirsty to know more about the healing Jesus provided at Calvary, get filled with it. Who Himself bore our sins in His own body on the tree, that we, having died to sins, might live for righteousness—by whose stripes you were healed (1 Peter 2:24). They sought it out and found it and now have an unshakable foundation in God's Word for healings and miracles. They are living it and experiencing it! With healing it is not a matter of trying to get healed by God. His Word says we were already healed 2,000 years ago (see Isaiah 53:3-5, Matthew 8:16-17 & 1 Peter 2:24). All we need to learn to do is tap into what was already provided by Jesus 2,000 years ago. Because of what Jesus did at Calvary we are the healed.

Many believe that if healing does not occur immediately then it must not be God's will to heal. In reality it is God's will to heal, but there may be roadblocks or hindrances that stand in the way of a person's complete healing. On the other hand, the absence of the physical manifestation of healing does not necessarily imply there are hindrances. Sometimes healing is a process.

The Western Mindset

THE WESTERN MINDSET has its origin in Greek philosophy. We see its influence often in North America. Often people mention to Sharmila and I that all the miracles we witness overseas are great, but why do we never see the same in North America. First I tell them I do not agree. What these people are actually saying is that God cares more for the sick overseas than for the sick in North America. Look at Acts 10:34, ".....in truth I've perceived that God shows no partiality." Romans 2:11 says, "For there is no partiality with God." God is no respecter of persons. If He heals people in India and Africa then He is willing and able to heal people in North America as well.

When praying for the sick in Montana and Wyoming we have seen many wonderful miracles such as the crippled getting out of wheelchairs. On occasion we have had such powerful meetings in the USA, that a larger percentage of people have been healed than in some of our most powerful campaigns overseas. It has a lot to do with the heart attitude and mindset towards healings and miracles.

Why do many struggle with divine healings

All we need to learn to do is tap into what was already provided by Jesus 2,000 years ago. Because of what Jesus did at Calvary we are the healed.

and miracles in North America? Part of the reason is much of Christianity in the West has been influenced by Greek philosophy and gnosticism in one form or another. One example was Augustine (a great man of God) who was very influenced by Greek philosophy before coming to Christ. When he came to Christ much of his Greek philosophy was mingled with his view of Christianity.

An excellent book we have available to those interested is entitled “Christianity Unshackled” (published by Destiny Image) by Harold R. Eberle (one of my former pastors). See His article “Christianity Unshackled” in this magazine page 8. In this book Harold takes you from the days of the early church right to present day Christianity and shows how the West has been deeply influenced by Greek philosophy, some of which is good and some of which I believe becomes a major roadblock to divine healing and miracles.

Now let me explain how much of Christianity was influenced by Greek philosophy, asceticism, and gnosticism. Some of it has been passed right down to present day Christianity and our western way of thinking. Much of that mindset has become men’s traditions making the Word of God of no effect (Mark 7:13). It affects our Christian belief system and much of it goes completely against the way the Jews perceived things in Jesus’ day and today. This mindset or way of thinking has much deeper roots than many could ever imagine and it has affected the Body of Christ and nations

“One good thing we have learned from Greek philosophy is to study, ask questions and reason things. But do not let your natural mind reason out what God can do. That is where we need to draw the line. He is supernatural and moves beyond natural laws.”

in such a detrimental way. Many do not even realize that some of this mindset hinders the move of God.

The Greek philosopher Plato taught there was a distinct separation between the spirit world and the physical world. The Jews during biblical times did not believe that way. In fact there is no separation between the spiritual and physical realm. In cultures not influenced by Plato’s philosophy they have a much easier time receiving miracles and healings from Jesus because to them there is no separating the spiritual and physical world like we do in the West. They do not reason away that God could do a miracle. After all He is God the Creator. Nothing is impossible for Him.

Most of the powerful undeniable miracles we see in our ministry are among Asians and Africans. Most of these people are from a Hindu or Muslim background. They do not know a whole lot about God or Plato and Greek philosophy yet it is easy for them to receive healings and miracles from God because they are more in tune to both the spiritual and natural realm. They do not separate the physical and spiritual realm like we in the West do.

To bring balance to this, the Bereans were people that believed the scriptures. One good thing we have learned from Greek philosophy is to study, ask questions and reason things. But do not let your natural mind reason out what God can do. That is where we need to draw the line. He is supernatural and moves beyond natural laws. He longs for us to depend on Him and believe that He will move supernaturally on our behalf.

Acts 17:10-12 says *“Then the brethren immediately sent Paul and Silas away by night to Berea. When they arrived, they went into the synagogue of the Jews. These were more fair-minded than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness, and searched the Scriptures daily to find out whether these things were so. Therefore many of them believed, and also not a few of the Greeks, prominent women as well as men.” Once they saw something in the Word they believed and acted on it.

Smith Wigglesworth had one of the most powerful healing ministries of the 20th century. He had a saying “If God said it, I believe it, that settles it.” If it is in God’s Word believe it and act on it. Quit trying to reason it out. That is where you need to draw the line!

During the dark ages some church leaders took oaths of poverty and chastity because they believed and still believe today they had to separate the spiritual from the physical world. They believed in asceticism (physical suffering) or a form of gnosticism that said if it felt good it could not be of God. That is the reason for oaths of poverty and chastity (permanent abstinence from sex).

Other gnostics or agnostics focused on the physical world and because they felt God was so far away and that man could never get close to Him they said just go ahead eat, drink and be merry. If it feels good do it! Neither thinking is biblical.

In creation God made it all good - spirit, soul and body. For the early church Jews there was no separation of the spirit and physical. Work, worship, and even sexual relations between a husband and wife were both spiritual and physical, and were good. The Jews were not like the Greeks who believed that only the spiritual was good. Notice that influence in our Western Christianity! Many times as Christians who want to please God we draw a line and think only the spiritual is good. If we are not focused on the spiritual we get easily condemned. That is not true with God!

While we are on this subject, another misconception because of Greek philosophy getting into Western Christianity is the thought of just focusing on the spirit and neglecting the physical body. 1 Timothy 4:8 says *“For bodily exercise profits (Greek- benefits or blessings) a little, but godliness is profitable for all things, having promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come.” Exercise does profit us a little (meaning temporarily for this lifetime). Does that mean we avoid it? A spiritual gnostic or someone who is “super-spiritual” might take that verse and say that we do not need to exercise or focus on the body. We only need the spiritual!

Studies have shown that among Christians, obesity is more of a problem than among the non-religious. Obesity of course leads to many health problems. I believe this is because many Christians ignore the mental and physical realm and only concentrate on the spiritual. I have been there and done that, focusing only on the spiritual. It made me very imbalanced and ineffective in areas of my life.

Not only does our family believe God for divine health but we do our part to walk in health by eating right, fasting, taking vitamins, exercising, etc. We believe that is what God desires for us to do and it has paid off in keeping us healthy, energetic and active. Rarely has there been ‘any sickness’ in our family. We believe in being well balanced in spirit, mind and body.

We need to humble ourselves and repent if we are not taking care of the temple of the Holy Ghost that we are entrusted with (see 1 Cor. 3:16-17). You will live much longer and accomplish much more for the Kingdom of God if you take care of yourself physically. Proverbs 23:20-21 says “Do not mix with winebibbers, Or with gluttonous eaters of meat; For the drunkard and the glutton will come to poverty, And drowsiness will clothe a man with rags.”

Sometimes Christians only focus on the spiritual to the point they become physically lazy and are no earthly good. This also leads to health problems. We need to be balanced in spirit, soul and body. We are not called to run around just being spiritual and have no time or energy to serve the least of these. If you are healthy you will live longer and be able to accomplish much more for the Kingdom of God.

Some Christians do not receive healing because they are only focused on what comes naturally. Their mindset is such that they make it hard for God to do anything supernatural in their lives. They limit God to what can be done naturally, not relying on the supernatural ability of the Holy Spirit that is within us. Many churches operate from this perspective. 2 Timothy 3:5 talks about these churches or Christians in the last days. It says “having a form of godliness but denying its power. And from such people turn away!”

Those Christians who focus on what can be done naturally also separate the natural and spiritual realm by their mindset. We need to be in tune to both realms and not separate the natural and spiritual realm. With most Christians in the West because of the way the Greeks thought, there is a priority for either the spiritual or physical. With God there is no prioritizing of either. Healing and miracles flow much easier in an environment where there is no separation of the spiritual and natural. 🌐

Christianity Unshackled

By Harold Eberle

We Christians in the Western world like to think our Christianity has been formed strictly from truths revealed in the Bible, but in reality our thoughts have developed over the course of 2,000 years intertwined with Western thought. As a consequence, our form of Christianity is a Western form of Christianity. When people groups of other cultures embrace Christianity they develop ideas and beliefs different from our own. They read the same Bible we read, yet they arrive at different conclusions and live differently than we do—often in significant ways.

I have been constantly challenged in my own belief system because I have spent the last 24 years working with various Christian communities around the world. In many ways I have found my Western form of Christianity lacking. For example, I find that Christians who live under persecution understand the importance of community in ways my culture cannot comprehend. Christians in developing nations talk frequently about spiritual and supernatural experiences like those recorded in the Bible. And some of our brethren in poverty-stricken areas have an abiding joy that is beyond the grasp of Christians in prosperous regions of the world.

I am not saying that they are right and we are wrong. In many ways our Christianity has been tested over the course of centuries and it has withstood the test of time. I maintain that Western Christianity is the most stable and well-thought out in the world. Yet, in some areas we come up short. There are some significant things we can learn from our brothers and sisters around the world.

In my personal wrestling with these issues I have endeavored to understand how our Western form of Christianity developed. Being a student of history, I wanted to answer the question, “How did we get where we are?” To answer this I dedicated section 1 of my book, Christianity Unshackled, to skimming through Western history to see how the modern Western worldview developed.

What became evident is how the foundation of our Western thought patterns was laid down in the ancient Greek world. That foundation is a clear demarcation between the spiritual world and the natural world. Unfortunately, Christianity was laid upon that spiritual/natural division when Christianity emerged out of Judaism in the first and second centuries.

Today Western people do not realize how profoundly their lives are influenced by Western thought. At the very least, the Western worldview leads a person to embrace a form of godliness but deny the power thereof. At worst, it causes one to deny the existence of God.

Those most profoundly influenced by the Western worldview are people within our institutions of higher learning. Since the eighteenth century, most of our universities have been founded in Enlightenment thought. Students sitting in classrooms are submitted to a constant bombardment of this thought, and as a result, they typically go through a metamorphosis which leads them to abandon the beliefs of their foreparents and, often, to even doubt the existence of God.

European intellectualism is a refined, crystallized form of the Western worldview. It too has had devastating effects upon Christianity. This is most evident in parts of Europe which historically have been Christian but today have huge cathedrals where only a handful of faithfuls sit on cold benches every Sunday morning. European intellectualism robs Christianity of its vibrancy and authority. As a consequence, Christianity is losing its position of influence in countries under the spell of Western intellectualism.

Enlightenment thought and European intellectualism permeate the Western world.

In North America, where I live, churches are being profoundly influenced. Some church leaders are submitting to its influence and, as a result, their churches are becoming institutionalized, formal, and dead. Other leaders are holding their congregations above its drowning affect and are staying alive—even thriving today. Hence, we see Christianity traveling down two different paths: one toward sleepiness and death under the weight of the Western intellectual worldview; the other toward vibrancy, authority, and growth.

For someone like me who ministers to Christians around the world, these issues are of major concern. I love the Church. I cannot bear to see Christians being swallowed up by a system of thought which destroys faith and undermines the authority of the gospel. I want to shake the Church out of lethargy and launch her into life and victory.

In an attempt to do this, I want to offer a Christian worldview separated from the Western worldview. Therefore, in section 2, of Christianity Unshackled, I develop that Christian worldview. I lay biblical truths on the foundation which sees the spiritual and natural realms as fully integrated rather than as two separate worlds. This leads us into a clearer understanding of the nature of God, humanity, and the world. These concepts provide a framework for a Christian worldview—one which is similar to those who wrote the Bible.

Christianity Unshackled presents a worldview upon which we can solidly build our lives and confidently make future decisions. This book offers a worldview which will hold up against the most fearsome attacks of atheists and answers the questions of today's society. Finally, it provides a worldview which opens our hearts and minds to a God who is willing to walk with us and act on our behalf. 🌐

Art for Orphans Auction

By Sharmila Anderson

On October 2, 2009 Rena Trail organized the “Art for Orphans” auction fundraiser in Jackson, Wyoming for Karishma Girl’s Home (Agra, India) and three other charitable organizations. The auction raised $2,627.50 for the girl’s home. That money has been sent to India. We also received some other very sizable donations for the girl’s home and are now considering the possibility of constructing the second floor. Currently we are running at full capacity and have had to turn away girls because of lack of room. This really grieves us, but we have no choice and cannot put the children living there through discomfort.

Other than that the children are doing really well. I was overjoyed to meet them in November 2009. All of them are so bright and sweet. They sang at our campaign in Agra each night. We had dinner with them one night. The girls sang and danced for us. They were not shy at all. We were given a lot of hugs and kisses. They eagerly participate in the church services held there. Being with them was a blessing to me. They are so full of life and have dreams for the future. In my conversations with them I discovered that some of them aspire to be teachers, one a doctor and the little ones are still sorting things out. Thank you for caring for the least of these and giving them a life, hope and a future! 🌟

Working with Randy Clark In North India

By Mark Anderson

Ever since the 'anointed handshake' her back has been perfectly fine.

Randy Clark Conference In North India

Randy has given me the go ahead to meet with key pastors and leaders while in Delhi and Agra this month to discuss the possibility of him doing a large pastors and leaders conference in Agra, India January 24-28, 2011. While in India March 19-23, 2010 I will be meeting, sharing with, and teaching key Pastors on how this can be done. We covet your prayers for these important meetings that could have a major impact on the leadership in North India. Randy is known for having a strong anointing for imparting to leaders during his leadership training conferences. Some of those he has imparted to have gone on to win many thousands to Christ with a tremendous anointing for miracles, signs and wonders. During prayer one morning the Lord showed Sharmila and I this would be a key conference in helping reap the harvest in North India. 🌐

During a recent trip to Redding, California we joined Randy Clark and his team for supper and visited about reaching out to North India together in 2011. We agreed that our translator Hanok will be translating two of Randy's books into Hindi this year.

Randy and Bill Johnson also had a private ordination time for Sharmila and I. We will be publicly ordained at the Voice of the Prophets conference in Mechanicsburg, PA April 21-24, 2010. When Randy introduced us to Bill Johnson, Bill shook Sharmila's hand and fire went through her back. She had been suffering with back pain on and off ever since a fall on ice one month earlier.

Randy Clark and Bill Johnson conduct a private ordination for Mark and Sharmila - Redding, CA January 14, 2010.

Historic Take it by Force conference attendees, March 1992 in Kathmandu. The effects, impartation and fruit of that conference spread all over Nepal.

A People That Sit In Great Darkness...

By Mark Anderson

The people in Western Nepal sit in great darkness. But we have the opportunity to take them the light of the gospel through your prayers and support. Our coordinator Sandy Anderson of Build International Ministries just sent me an email about what it is like there right now. Sandy has labored in Nepal for over 25 years producing tremendous fruit for the Kingdom of God. My son Jesse and I are leaving on March 18, 2010 for India and then western Nepal.

Hindu Fundamentalists Shut Down Far Western Region of Nepal

A Hindu fundamentalist association named Bhism Ekata Parishad has called a bandh (strike) in the far western region, Monday February 15, 2010. Life has been adversely affected in all nine districts of the far west due to the bandh. Transportation has been obstructed, schools, offices and markets have also remained closed. The Parishad called a bandh with various 12 demands including declaring Nepal a Hindu Nation (again) and making the cow the national animal.

As you can see from the recent news out of Western Nepal that much of Nepal is very needy and isolated from much of modern civilization. Whenever Sandy Anderson has felt the timing is right for me to come to Nepal I have been following his lead. I have been to Nepal numerous times at his

Benjamin Sunwar attended the 1992 conference to mock it. He was a troublemaker, Hindu and was an academically poor student in school. When he saw God move with such powerful miracles he surrendered his life to Christ. He became the top student in his school. Later He attended Sandy Anderson's Bible School became Sandy's right hand man in Nepal and went on to attend Christ for the Nation Bible School in Dallas, Texas.

invitation since 1991. Our main concentration was on training Pastors and leaders. In Nepal we saw some of the greatest fruit we have seen from our ministry travels all over the world. We saw and heard of miracles, healings, signs and wonders break out after some of our training times as Pastors and leaders went back to their villages and cities and put into practice what they had learned at the conference.

When I first went to Nepal (a Hindu Kingdom until recently) in 1991 only 1/5th of 1% of the people were professing Christians. Many believers were serving prison sentences at that time. By 1999 it was estimated that 3% of the country was professing Christian.

As I asked around I found out miracles, healings, signs and wonders had become a regular occurrence all over Nepal. Because the Nepalese were beholding the love and power of Jesus many thousands were flocking to Christ.

My last trip to Nepal was in 2001 when we trekked up near the Mount Everest region to preach the Gospel, days before the Royal Family was murdered (and fighting broke out between the Maoist and Government forces) I have been told this is the best time to come back to Nepal again. Sandy and His team feel this is the time to do city-wide open air campaigns and leadership training.

As you can see this area is very volatile and there is no telling how effective a campaign and conference could be until we go through this crack in the door and conduct an outreach for the masses and train the local leaders. That is where your much needed

This pastor was totally deaf for 7 years. He traveled one week to attend THE TAKE IT BY FORCE conference in Kathmandu. I started the conference by pulling this pastor out of the crowd and demonstrating how to take authority and pray for the sick. The Holy Spirit instantly opened his ears. He went on to preach the Gospel once again. From there the miracles and healings of Jesus broke out all over!

Our aim in conducting these campaigns is not to bring back photos of massive campaigns where the same people attend the same evangelistic campaigns over and over again. We have many invitations to do just that! Our heart is intent on reaching the truly unreached and untold masses where they have yet to hear of Jesus, whether it is convenient or not. If God opens the door we are available to step through that door and believe that God will show up and accelerate the harvest in that area.

This is God's heartbeat: And so I have made it my aim to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build on another man's foundation, but as it is written: "To whom He was not announced, they shall see; And those who have not heard shall understand. (Romans 15:20-21). Our heart is beating as well for the truly unreached and untold in the 10/40 window. This is one of those places!

0.07% of all money raised by Christians

This young boy was given up to die, instead was healed by Jesus during the 1992 training conference and outreach in Kathmandu.

goes to reach the unreached! 99.7% of money raised by Christians stays where Christianity is the dominant religion. We need believers who care about the unreached and want to change that statistic to help us with prayers and support at this time. We need your help to take advantage of this season of harvest in Western Nepal. We want to reach these backward people of Western Nepal with the love and power of Jesus Christ. Now is the time!

We also plan to bring in our key Indian leader we support monthly, Pastor MP Singh to help out. Pastor MP Singh has planted 6 churches and has nearly 70 home groups that meet in the Shimla, Himachal Pradesh area. My hope is for him to develop some good relationships in Western Nepal and help out more in this area as the Lord leads. ●

If God opens the door we are available to step through that door and believe that God will show up and accelerate the harvest in that area.

E-mail Testimony from Agra, India

November 2009

I had a ruptured knee ligament (ACL) because of which I could not perform normal activities like running, squatting, bending my knee etc for nearly 2 years. You prayed for me just before we were leaving for Delhi that night. We reached in the morning and slept. When I got up, I recalled that you had prayed for me and I checked myself by squatting. To my surprise, the pain had left. I was skeptical because many prayers were offered in the last 2 years but did not do much good. I squatted again and again, 8-10 times and still there was no pain. I knelt down in prayer, for the first time in two years, and thanked the Lord for this healing. Today, I am able to do absolutely everything that I could not in 2 years. Praise God !!

Miracles and healings do not have to be rare in your life or the life of any Spirit-filled or Spirit-led believer. Here are things covered in Mark's book. By understanding your God-given authority and partnering with the Holy Spirit "You Can Tap Into Christ's Healing Power."

Christ openly made a show of the enemy. You can enforce what He accomplished 2,000 years ago. Sometimes faith is a fight. Learn how to stand for what rightfully belongs to you IN CHRIST. Learn how your words shape and affect the way you live your life.

By understanding something that the children of Israel understood you can create an atmosphere conducive for the Holy Spirit to move in power. You can literally affect the spiritual realm releasing Christ's healing power in this physical realm. Learn the role humility will play in the healing ministry in these last days.
